

Recipient of the Environmental Health & Safety Award, 2009

Peter Wallace is a Senior Instructor in the Department of Earth Sciences.

Peter has produced a comprehensive field guide, which is used by several departments and ensures that safety equipment is not only available, but modern and maintained. He has established a firm and well-founded safety program of effective instruction and best practices for safety in the field. Such training in safety not only protects our staff and students today but these safety habits will benefit them and their co-workers throughout their future careers.

Congratulations Peter!

Mr. Peter Wallace
Department of Earth Sciences
Dalhousie University

Recipient of the Environmental Health & Safety Award, 2009

Dr. Paul Amyotte is a Professor of Process Engineering and Applied Science.

Paul has been an active member of the Environmental Health and Safety Committee for six years, providing insights, suggestions and recommendation on numerous issues. He has offered several training sessions in Workplace and Laboratory Inspections as well as Incident Investigation for members of the Committee and other Dalhousie staff. Paul has worked with Dr. Josh Leon, Bram Nelisson and others in establishing a functional health and safety committee at the Sexton Campus which is discussing important issues and has begun safety inspections around the Campus.

Congratulations Paul!

Dr. Paul Amyotte
Department of Process Engineering
& Applied Science
Dalhousie University